Secure Shelving:

Foot Clinic

The Challenge

A private medical clinic was experiencing loss of supplies from their treatment rooms. Valuable time was being spent during patient treatments trying to find missing items, leading to disorganization, wasted employee time, and ultimately costing the clinic money.

The Solution

Locking tambour doors were installed on the front of their shelving units to secure the contents, while still providing convenient access by authorized staff. The low-profile doors were retro-fitted to existing shelving, making it an affordable and professional looking solution.
